Continuing to Work Together

There is strong interest within the group to continue working together on the topic(s) discussed during the breakout session, as evidenced by the table below:

Support Going Forward

There is interest in having some structured support to continue discussing partnership opportunities. These options vary among group participants:

Action Step Idea: Hold an initial conference call where the group could discuss and identify activities – future conference calls, webinars, workshops, or other activities - that would help to develop the partnership(s) further.
